Set atop the Spanish Steps with incomparable views of Rome, the iconic Hassler Roma hotel marks its 125th anniversary

The Spanish Steps which connect Piazza di Spagna with Piazza Trinità dei Monti are one of Rome's must-see landmarks. Travellers who make the 135-step climb are rewarded with unforgettable views of the Fontana della Barcaccia, and the area is also home to some of the city's best places to stay, particularly the Hassler Roma, a luxury five-star hotel located at the top of the stairs, minutes from Via Condotti.

Owned by President and General Manager Roberto E. Wirth, the fifth generation of a famous Swiss hotelier dynasty, the Hassler quickly established itself as Rome's five-star lodging of choice for the world's elite and discerning travellers.

Now, 125 years later, the Hassler continues this legacy and, to mark the occasion of its anniversary, the grande dame has renovated a number of its public spaces, rooms and suites in order to continue to preserve the iconic hotel's timeless elegance, while adding in a new contemporary style.

Each of the 91 rooms and suites, has been individually designed with an elegant combination of classic and contemporary touches. Highlights include the Michelin-starred panoramic restaurant, Imàgo, the Salone Eva and Palm Court restaurant and the Hassler Bar, as well as the neighbouring, Hassler-owned Il Palazzetto, a hotel, wine bar and special event space.

Elegance and style is at the heart of everything Hassler Roma does, making it a popular destination for admiring Roman architecture and design at its finest.
